Novatech Ltd effectively manage health and safety in the workplace to ensure the health, safety and welfare of its employees, contractors and visitors

In compliance with the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the accompanying protective legislation, our Managers and Supervisory staff are trained in their responsibilities to ensure the health, safety and welfare of those likely to be affected by our business activities.

Senior Management recognise their responsibility for ensuring the effective implementation and monitoring of the company Health, Safety and Welfare Policy.

Regular HS&W review meetings, ensure that we continue to maintain a culture of responsibility, understanding and commitment, supported by the clear provision of financial and other resources required to ensure the wellbeing of staff and visitors.

Novatech Ltd Management commit to their duty to ensure the following:

- To provide and maintain a safe and healthy place of work, safe systems and equipment, including personal protective equipment PPI.
- To ensure that hazards are identified and acted upon through regular meetings, staff feedback and Risk Assessments.
- To provide information, instruction and training as is necessary, to ensure employees and others are assured of a safe and healthy working environment.
- Promoting the awareness of health and safety and encouraging health and safety best practice throughout the organization.
- To ensure we are identifying and taking the appropriate protective and preventative measures.
- To ensure that we have access to competent advice and are able to secure compliance with our statutory duties.

Employees are reminded of their legal duty to take reasonable care for the health, safety and welfare of themselves and other persons, including the public, who may be affected by their activities whilst at work.
